

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

At a benefit dance at Brattleboro 830 was cleared for the janitor of the army who recently suffered from a paralytic shock.

A table made of more than 10,000 pieces, composed of different kinds of wood and inlaid with a checker board at the top, is the work of Walter Robair of Burlington, who put his spare time for a year onto the job.

Lyndon institute will re-open Monday, Feb. 7, after being closed for two weeks because of five cases of scarlet fever at the Mathewson house. Harold Phillips, a student of the agricultural school, is ill with the disease at his home in East Burke.

A snow statue of Napoleon in military dress in front of the residence of Dr. C. A. Cramton in St. Johnsbury has attracted much attention. It was made by Edward Cramton and is a very good representation, showing the possession of considerable ability as a sculptor by the young man.

John Taylor, an aged Rutland man, was knocked down and run over by a team in that city Monday evening. He could not tell how the accident happened except that he apparently misjudged the distance the outfit was from him as he crossed the street. Mr. Taylor was taken to the Rutland hospital and will recover unless internal injuries develop, as the horse stepped on his chest.

The Loomis institute of Hartford, Conn., has sued Collins R. and Merritt Griswold of Londonderry to recover $5,000. The papers allege that on September 21, 1914, four Holstein cows, represented by the defendants to be sound, were bought by the institute for $2,000, the institute acting upon the guarantee of the defendants. Three of the four cows, it is alleged, were found to have tuberculosis and nine other cows and one small bull became infected and had to be killed, the animals being valued at $3,500.

A proposition is under way to raise Grotton pond 10 feet for storage purposes and a committee which has been appointed by the water power companies on the river between the pond and Wells River will soon interview the campers and ascertain their views on the subject. To raise the pond ten feet would oblige most of the owners of cottages to move back onto the side hills. An increase in the height of the pond to ten feet would flood most of the ponds on knolls would be located on islands. The boat houses at any rate would have to be moved. It is said that the promoters are willing to give the camp owners an equivalent to what they now have or purchase outright and where on leased land to make an adjustment so that they will own the land.

Waterbury Man Has 26 Creditors.

Walter Krimovich of Waterbury, a merchant and tailor, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with Clerk F. S. Platt of the United States court. His counsel is George H. Dale and the creditors number 26. Mr. Krimovich owes $1,803.50 and he has assets of $1,156.51, with $86 claimed exempt. The largest creditors are: Seale Manufacturing company, New York, $82.50; F. D. Wood, Waterbury, $104.17; F. C. Lane company, Waterbury, $304.06; I. S. Yett, Montpelier, $188.49; Burlington City Laundry, Burlington, $150.10; Towne & Knowles, Waterbury, $70.17.

Rutland Fair's Plans.

The week beginning with Labor day has again been chosen as the time for the Rutland fair, it having been decided at a meeting of the directors of the Rutland County Agricultural society held Tuesday afternoon to have the 1916 fair Sept. 4-8. No change will be made in the price of admission.

Of chief interest of the matters discussed at the busy session Tuesday afternoon was the need and prospects for new buildings this season. It is probable that there will be erected a model dairy building for housing exhibits and an automobile showroom which may be two stories high in order to give space for a large dining hall. Conditions for the past two years have been such that the officials feel that there is great need of adequate shelter for a big automobile show because this branch of the fair is growing yearly. It was suggested by some of those present yesterday that the dining hall be on the first floor and that it be large enough to be used as a convention hall outside of fair week. If the dairy building is erected it will include a place for testing cattle.

The first five officers were given authority to appoint department superintendents, revise the premium list and arrange purses.

It was voted to invite the Rutland Horse Show association and the Interstate Poultry & Pet Stock association to hold meets with the fair. Secretary W. K. Farnsworth was elected a delegate to the annual meeting of the Green Mountain racing circuit and to the annual meeting of the National Trotting association, which meets in New York Feb. 9.

The president was authorized to appoint a committee to confer with the Rutland carnival committee for 1916.

Rutland Building Called Unfit for Occupancy.

That the Hale block in Rutland is not fit for animals to live in, was the starting statement made by Trust Officer Charles B. Costello in his address before the Rutland Woman's club Tuesday afternoon, when the civic committee had charge of children's relief day. He told of how a family of 11 children on one floor had sore eyes and how on another floor one family of seven and another of four were also afflicted with the same disease. He said the conditions were dangerous and it was a breeding place of disease.

Mr. Costello in opening his remarks stated that his chief knowledge in speaking before women came from a small club (his household) of four on Mansfield place. He told of how in many cases families became professional beggars and tried to get the city to provide clothing when the parents were perfectly capable of taking care of their children; of finding children out of school because the parents stated they needed shoes and upon investigating he found that the father and mother were working every day and could well provide these articles. He said that the statement "that he would have the heads of the family prosecuted."

30,000 VOICES

And Many Are the Voices of Barre People

Thirty thousand voices—that a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Barre people are in this chorus.

Here's a Barre case:

H. J. Ennis, barber, 11 S. Main street, Barre, says: "When I began to have trouble with my kidneys, I got Doan's Kidney Pills right away, as others of my family had had great benefit from them. I had sharp pains across the small of my back. Doan's Kidney Pills drove the pain away and I have had no trouble since."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ennis had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

cut if shoes were not provided and the children returned to school" had proved a most efficacious way of procuring the desired results. Some times the money went for liquor, but in many instances it was simply a case of trying to get help from the city.

PHYSICIAN DIED SUDDENLY.

Dr. James W. Gregg of Brattleboro Had Heart Weakness.

Brattleboro, Feb. 3.—Dr. James W. Gregg, 72, for 40 years a medical practitioner in Brattleboro, died suddenly yesterday afternoon in his new residence on Northern avenue. Death followed a severe attack of heart disease of about an hour's duration. Up to noon Dr. Gregg had been in his usual health and was about the house, his always happy and congenial temperament manifesting itself. Then came the sudden attack, which Dr. A. I. Miller, who was called, pronounced acute angina pectoris.

Dr. Gregg was a native of Scotland and was born March 20, 1843. He came to this country in his boyhood and since then had always lived in Vermont. He graduated from the medical department of Dartmouth college and located for the practice of medicine in South Ryegate, coming from there to Brattleboro 40 years ago last fall.

For some time Dr. Gregg was proprietor of a drug store in the quarters from which Druggist C. F. Thomas has just moved, but for the greater part of his residence here he had devoted himself to the practice of his profession. At first his office was in the drug store, but in recent years it had been upstairs in the same building.

In April, 1867, Dr. Gregg married Luthera Cochran of Ryegate, who survives. There are also four children, Miss Emma J. Gregg and Robert C. Gregg, who live at home, the former for a long time teacher of music in the incorporated schools of Brattleboro until a year ago, Lewis A. Gregg of Springfield, Mass., manager of the Charles Hall china and art store, and Miss Madeline A. Gregg, a school teacher in New Bedford, Mass.

From the Code of Successful Workers.

In the February American Magazine Ray Stannard Baker gives the following code for successful commandments adapted for boys and girls:

1. I will respect all useful work, and be courteous to the workers.
2. I will know my work, and have ambition to do it well.
3. I will take the initiative, and develop executive ability.
4. I will be industrious and willing.
5. I will be honest and truthful.
6. I will educate myself into strength of character.
7. I will be faithful to my work.
8. I will be loyal.
9. I will be a gentleman—a lady.
10. "The world does not owe me a living, but I am proud to make a good living for myself."

I will hold my next big combination auction sale of Horses, Cattle, Hogs, Poultry, Sleds, Harnesses, Robes, Blankets, Whips, Halters, etc., on Friday, February 4,

at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at my stable at 96 Northfield street, Montpelier, Vt., ten minutes' walk from the Wells River R. station.

I HAVE FOR THIS SALE

16 Fresh Horses

Out of a carload recently received from the West, a good general business lot, ranging in weight from 1,100 to 1,600 lbs., some nice pairs, all ready for the lumber business or any place you want to use them; some nice single horses, the kind you like to see. I also have for this sale 8 or 10 good serviceable, second-hand horses of our own and from 25 to 40 COMMISSION HORSES, all kinds, both single and double harnesses. You will find in this lot some good ones and some cheap ones, all kinds and values. We also have consigned two good straight young fresh cows, and some other cattle expected. We shall have the usual number of sleds, sleighs, new and second hand, single and double harnesses and drive harnesses. We also shall have a big closing-out sale of street and stable blankets, some of those nice rawhide whips, halters, etc. This is our first sale of the year, and we shall try and make it a good one. Bring in the property you have to dispose of, and let us get the cash for you; and, if you wish to buy, you always find some good bargains at these sales. We will have other property that comes in before our sale that is not mentioned here. Come out and help make this first sale of the year a big one. Usual terms of credit. Lunch room on the ground.

H. M. FARNHAM, The Horse Man.

SERVED IN CIVIL WAR.

But Joseph H. Goulding Got Colonel's Title on Gov. Barstow's Staff.

Rutland, Feb. 3.—Joseph H. Goulding, a veteran of the Civil war and a prominent Vermontor, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. M. Ross, in this city, where he recently came after being taken sick in California.

Col. Joseph Hiram Goulding was born at Potsdam, N. Y., June 8, 1842. He was a student in Norwich university when he was appointed a second lieutenant in the United States army and saw service in the Civil war, being promoted to the position of first lieutenant.

Returning to Vermont at the close of hostilities, Colonel Goulding settled in Rutland, joining Robert post, G. A. R., in 1868. He served in various capacities and was department commander of the state in 1880 and 1881. Repeatedly he represented the Grand Army of Vermont at the national encampment, and in 1890 he was appointed adjutant-general of the national organization. At the time of his death, he was a member of C. B. Lawton post of Wilmington.

He was a member of Social lodge, F. and A. M., and Fort Dummer chapter, R. A. M., of Wilmington, Beausant commandery, Knights Templar, of Brattleboro, and Mount Sinai temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, of Montpelier.

Gov. John L. Barstow appointed Mr. Goulding colonel on his executive staff in 1882 and 1883. He was also secretary of civil and military affairs for Gov. L. K. Fuller, 1892-1893. Norwich university conferred the M. A. degree upon him the latter year.

On settling in Rutland after the war, Colonel Goulding entered the employ of the Rutland railroad in the freight and general transportation departments. He afterwards became secretary to the president of the company. In 1881 he became secretary of the Dorset Marble company and later became associated with the Rutland Savings bank.

He served some time as assistant postmaster of Rutland, resigning in 1892. Colonel Goulding moved to Wilmington soon after, and in 1895 became treasurer of the Wilmington Savings bank, the bank showing a healthy growth during his term of office.

150 MUSICIANS

Attended First Rehearsal of Montpelier Choral Society.

The first rehearsal of the Montpelier Choral society was held in the city hall, Montpelier Tuesday evening with an attendance of 150. The evening was spent in getting a look at the different numbers and listening to explanations of the works from Mr. Coffin, who spoke with much enthusiasm of the merit of this season's program.

After the rehearsal the committee met and discussed various details of the coming festival. Among the new features proposed was a students' matinee to be held during the afternoon of the first day, this event to be in addition to the regular concert and matinee of the second day. This extra matinee is to be open to all school children of Barre and Montpelier and chorus members only. It was the opinion of the committee that this would allow all pupils in the two cities to hear and enjoy one concert of the festival expressly prepared and arranged for them. More particulars concerning the same will be given later.

The membership committee is organizing with a view to securing 275 members, in order to bring out the best features in the choral numbers selected.

WHY SAW WOOD BY HAND POWER?

When a gasoline engine will do it for you in one-fourth the time and one-fourth the expense of hand labor?
The same thing applies to milking cows. The Empire Milking Machine is perfected to a degree that is far above the average hand milking, and doing it with one-fourth the time and expense of hand labor, more pleasure to both the man and the cow, more sanitary, more results in the pail, and more satisfactory from every standpoint.

THE EMPIRE MILKER is not an experiment—but has been in successful operation over two years; more than 5,000 machines in use, over 100 in Vermont.

Bennington Man Found Dead.

John D. McCue, aged 67 years, for about 25 years a resident of Bennington, died suddenly of apoplexy in the loft of his barn on Park street about 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Mr. McCue for the past few years had been retired from business and did odd jobbing about his home and the market conducted by his sons. Shortly after dinner on Tuesday, he went to the barn to feed the horse and mounted into the loft to throw down hay. The exertion of climbing the stairs evidently affected his heart, for at the top of the flight he fell forward to the floor of the loft and when found by his son, Thomas, he had been dead several minutes.

He was born in Ireland, coming to America about 47 years ago. He spent several years in Pennsylvania, as mining engineer's assistant, afterward coming to North Adams, where he was employed on the Hoosac tunnel. In North Adams he married Miss Anna Mooney, and a strange feature in connection with his death is that he had exactly finished 43 years of married life, Wednesday being his wedding anniversary. From North Adams, he lived for a short time in Rutland, afterward going to Bennington.

He had been an orphan since six years old and leaves no brothers or sisters. He is survived by his wife and five children, Elizabeth and Sarah McCue, and Edward, Thomas and James McCue, all of Bennington.

ESTATE OF MANDANA MEADER

State of Vermont, District of Washington, ss. The Honorable Probate Court for the District of Washington, do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the will of Mandana Meader, late of Cabot, in said district, deceased, GREETING:

WHEREAS, said court has assigned the 25th day of February next for examining and allowing the account of the administrator de bono non of the estate of said deceased and for a decree of the residue of said estate to the lawful claimants of the same, and ordered that public notice thereof be given to all persons interested in said estate by publishing this order three weeks successively previous to the day assigned, in the Barre Daily Times, a newspaper published at the city of Barre, in said district;

THEREFORE, you are hereby notified to appear at the probate office in Montpelier, in said district, on the day assigned, and there to contest the allowance of said account, if you see cause, and to establish your right as heirs, legatees and lawful claimants to said residue.

Given under my hand this 25th day of January, 1916.

FRANK J. MARTIN, Judge.

Distilled Water.

Distilled water after having been exposed to the air is one of the most salubrious of drinks. Its daily use in measured quantities is helpful in cases of dyspepsia and greatly assists the general functions of the body. Every large steamer carries a water distilling apparatus by which sea water is made fresh. In the days before steamers primitive distilling apparatus was used on warships and vessels carrying passengers.

Well Fitted.

"Yes, grandma; I am to be married next month."

"But, my dear," said grandma earnestly, "you are very young. Do you feel that you are fitted for married life?"

"I am being fitted now, grandma," explained the prospective bride sweetly. "Seven gowns!"—Kansas City Journal.

More Than the Average.
